GAME CALLED PREMATURELY BY THE UMPIRE YESTERDAY

Additional Two Innings Could Have Been Played—Felsch Gets Away With Trick Costly to Griffen.

BY J. ED GRILLO.

The tie game of yesterday furnished one of the best struggles seen on the local grounds this season. The fact that the Nationals came from the rear and overcame a three-run lead made the game all the more interesting. It was Joe Judge who made this possible. But for the good work of the clever first baseman the Nationals would have gone down to defeat, and the Cleveland Indians would once more have been a full game ahead of the locals.

The ending, however, was not satisfactory, for the reason that Umpire Chitt called the game, when it was possible to have played at least two more innings. It was just as light at the close of the fourteenth inning as it had been three innings prior to that, and it would have been good policy to have continued the struggle until a decision was reached or until it really was too dark to play.

This tie game means the Griffen and the Sox will have to play a double-header here the next time the Sox make a visit.

It was the original intention to play the postponed game with the Athletics today in the form of a double-header, but Manager Griffith after giving the matter some thought concluded it would be better to have the double-header Saturday, when more spectators will be able to take advantage of it. It is Griffith's intention to pitch both Johnson and Gallia in the double-header tomorrow, in the hope of winning both and thus passing Cleveland in the race.

For the first time this season George Dumont today was slated to start a game for the Griffen. Dumont has entirely recovered from the operation by which his tonsils were removed, is in fine form now and he was expected to pitch a good game of ball against the Mackmen.

Umpire O'Loughlin failed to make a decision in the seventh inning which, in all probability, would have won the game for the Griffen, when he allowed Felsch to get away with a trick which gave his team the three runs it scored in that inning. Felsch's grounder to Foster had retired E. Collins at the plate. Henry, of course, tried to make a double play and get his team out of a hole. Felsch, however, instead of running in the three-foot line provided by the rules, deliberately took to the grass in order to disconcert Henry, and the scheme was successful, for Henry's throw hit Felsch in the back, and a run came over the plate. Felsch, who reached second on the play, later scored himself behind Jackson when Harper erred on Schalk's tip to him.

There was no excuse for O'Loughlin to allow Felsch to get away with a play of this nature, and if it was in any other league but the American a protest would be upheld and the game have to be played over or awarded to the Nationals.

Slowly but surely the act of Manager Griffith in selling Chic Gandil to the Cleveland club is being recognized by local fans as being the result of sound judgment. The fans now realize that Griffith added much strength to his team when he decided to make Joe Judge his regular first baseman. No more valuable addition to the Washington club has ever been made, and this now is being generally recognized. Judge did not make a good impression early in the season, because he naturally is not an early beginner. But now that he has gained his stride he is leading the team in most every department.

Judge's performance at the bat and in the field nowadays are notable, and if he keeps up his hitting he is sure to be one of the leading batters in the league. Yesterday Judge celebrated his twenty-first birthday, and he did it in a most pleasing way, hitting for two singles and a triple and scoring two of his team's three runs.

Chey Chase Nine Winner.

The Chey Chase Junior base ball team defeated the Irving Stars yesterday by a score of 2 to 1. The contest was well played and reflected credit on the personnel of both teams. The Irving Stars scored in the first inning, and the Chey Chase Juniors went to the eighth before they tied the count. In the eleventh the Chey Chase boys got the winning count. The contest was featured by the work of the two pitchers, F. Bosco for Chey Chase and Normant and Findley for the Irving Stars.

TIE-UP IN QUALIFICATION OF CHEY CHASE TOURNEY

Duff of Pittsburgh and Wier of Wilmington Make Best Golf Scores, 83, in Opening Event at Medal Play.

There were not many surprises in the qualification round of the Chey Chase Club's golf tourney, played yesterday, and few of those expected to qualify in the first sixteen failed to do so, but Donald Woodward and John C. Davidson fell by the wayside and entered the third and fourth sixteens, respectively.

The low score medal was won last year with a 78, but this year 70 was tied for the honor of leading the larger field. W. H. Duff, 24, of Oakmont, Pittsburgh, and Robert Wier of the Wilmington, Del. club, tied, the last named recording a brilliant 28 on the nine after a somewhat mediocre 45 on the first half. The detailed scores follow:

W. H. Duff, 24, Oakmont:
Out..... 4 6 3 5 6 4 6 4—44
In..... 3 5 3 5 5 5 3 5—39—83

Robert Wier, Wilmington:
Out..... 6 5 3 4 6 3 7 2—45
In..... 4 6 2 4 4 4 4 2—35—83

Only one 89 got in the first sixteen and nine men were tied at 98 for one place in the fourth sixteen. J. D. Beuret of Chey Chase was the fortunate one to draw.

The greens were very fast and the scores were higher on this account, but it was proved pretty conclusively that the new course is from three to five strokes harder than the old one. Hamilton Kerr, who is backed by many to win the tournament, took 87 and Walter Tuckerman had to be satisfied with 88. Everett E. Jackson, last year's winner, found some trouble with his long game and dropped into the second sixteen.

The local talent performed well, with the exception of Woodward and Davidson and all the first flighters are in. Ashmead Fuller, a young golfer from the home club, who has not been playing very much for several years, turned in the excellent score of 85 in the qualification round, and obtained fourth place.

McCammon Wins Place.

The excitement of the day came in the play-off of the tie between Ormsby McCammon and Allan Lard, both of Chey Chase, at 89, for last place in the first sixteen. McCammon got a screamer off the first tee, and the same kind was played by Lard, with McCammon getting the longer ball. Lard played a good second, but McCammon took a creak and laced out a beautiful ball that seemed as if it would be the green. Lard's pitch was thirty feet beyond the pin, while McCammon ran up to within five feet. Lard's approach shot was five feet beyond the cup, and McCammon missed his short one, halving the hole in five. The second shot was a beautiful drive, while McCammon topped his, and when he topped his second and Lard put him in the hole, the contest was over. But McCammon, after dubbing his third shot, topped it and sank the putt, while his opponent took three putts to halve the hole in five. A double-holed ball in the rough on the third hole, and both topped their second, McCammon's ball stopping just short of the hole, while Lard's was a good brassie to the right of the hole. McCammon played his masher short. Both men went into the hole on their approaches, but halved the hole in 6. The end came on the short fourth. Lard played first, and his ball hit the first green and bounded out between the two water hazards. McCammon took his masher and pitched a superb ball to within fifteen feet of the cup. Lard failed to get down in 2, and McCammon won the hole, 3-1. Lard was not to play in the second sixteen.

J. H. de Sibour of Chey Chase recorded an 89, which should have been played off with McCammon and Lard for last place in the first sixteen, but he was called out of town on business, and left word that in case of a tie he should be dropped into the second sixteen.
